Pay-as-you go decision on building

A group of women worried about losing property got a promise Monday from the City of Daly City that a decision would be made within a month on a new Civic Center site for Daly City. It was also made clear the new building would be paid for without a bond issue.

Spokesman for the group, Mrs. Mason of 460 Santa Barbara Ave, said several widows in her area were "very disturbed" about appraisers hired by the city to look at homes.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said "we understand they are old, established homes in the area. I'm sure the council will make up its mind very shortly."

He said the decision should be made within a month.

No Bond Issue

George Kirchhubel, owner of Kirchhubel's Tavern on Mission Street asked the council "How will it be financed?"

He suggested the council ask for a bond issue vote in April.

"A bond issue has a very bad sound," said Councilman Michael DeBernardi.

"Our pay as you go basis is flexible enough to take care of any rise in costs," he said.

Mayor Verducci said there is a possibility of Daly City obtaining either Federal funds or State retirement funds for financing the building.

"All we have to do is pick the site and we're ready to go," said Verducci.

He said the city has saved $250,000 as a "down payment."

Mayor Verducci added he wanted to make it clear that "we have accepted a policy of pay as you go. We don't intend to try a bond issue for city hall property. We will proceed with that policy.

A bond issue, he said, would delay the project. Construction said Verducci, should start in April.

Public fallout shelters may be a reality

Public fallout shelters in Daly City, until now in the planning stage, might become a reality.

Bill (HR 8200) approved by e House of Representatives, ould provide a total of $175 illion to the nation for de-elopment of shelters in non-ofit institutions.

This bill would make $20 llion available to California ties.

Shelters Needed

Shelters, according to Cali-nia Disaster Office Director lan K. Jonan "are needed the bedroom communities the state."

He advocates allocation of elter funds for schools, hos-als and government build-ings.

The Daly City fallout shel-er program, if any, remains stly on paper.

There are plans for radio uipment, volunteers and util-ation of buildings. However, test drill of civil defense olunteers would be impossible at the present time.

Implementation of shelter d defense programs has en slow, due to lack of fed-al funds and direction. Pub-schools, which are cited as "an ideal location for commu-y shelters," have been slow implement any kind of pro-am.

This is due in part to the ct that schools are not equip-ed to handle children in emer-ency situations, such as feed-ng and housing them for long eriods of time.

There are no public fall-out shelters in Daly City. A ederal survey showed no buildings adequate for that purpose.

Disaster Plans

Plans call for radiological monitoring equipment, for the City of Daly City, by which the equipment can inndicate he level of radiation following an atomic blast and residents can be told when to come out of their homes.

It is planned that local residents will be formed into volunteer units to work in the Daly City emergency hospital, which is stored at Our Lady of Mercy Hall, Daly City.

There is also a RACES (Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service) which meets in Daly City. This is a group of citizens which are to provide auxiliary radio communications in time of local disaster.

An emergency operations center to house disaster communications equipment, is proposed for the new city hall.

Jones has urged all-out support for the Shelter Development Bill as a means of meeting what he termed "the gross inadequacy in our residential areas."

Should the bill fail to pass, however, he said that the state would continue its program to make the best use of the available fallout shelter designated by the federal survey in existing buildings.

This would leave Daly City with no fallout shelters since no public buildings have met federal qualifications.

Hupf suggests settlement on fire lawsuit

The lawsuit between the Bayshore fire district and the City of Brisbane over dissolution of the Bayshore fire district, can be resolved with satisfaction to both parties, City Attorney Paul Hupf told the Daly City council Monday night. Talks were recently continued until Sept. 30.

Hupf said Brisbane, which instigated the proceedings in order to hold onto fire district revenues, would actually receive $45,000 payment for the current year if they allowed the district to dissolve.

If Brisbane prohibited it, the money would be lost to them, Hupf said.

"We suggested they have nothing to lose by dissolving the district," Hupf added.

Besides, he said, Daly City wants a unified fire department.

Harmony Stressed

Councilman Frank Pacelli suggested creation of a "harmony of agreement" between Daly City and Brisbane, within the Sanitary districts and other city districts.

Mayor Joseph Verducci agreed.

"I think a lot of the problems we have with Brisbane are due to lack of communication," he said.

City scores high on annual audit

A audit of the Daly City finance department and city clerk's office showed that the "City of Daly City is being operated on a very sound financial basis," according to Auditor Alfred Belotz, 375 South Mayfair.

OLD TIMERS—It looks like the Keystone Cops, but actually this is the Daly City police department, circa 1927, at a time when the policemen had one phone box and one police car. From left is Jack Doyle, Otto Schramm, William Hopman and Barney Hilton. Schramm is now a senior patrol sergeant with the California Highway Patrol. Hopman, Doyle and Hilton are deceased.

Daly City police, circa 1927

By Jack Wood

Communications were "kind of nil" at the top of the hill in Daly City in 1927-28, muses old time policeman Otto Schramm.

Daly City's four-man police force had a phone box at Hillside and Mission Streets. All communications came through a bell that rang at the box.

When no policeman was around, local citizens would help out and tell the officers the phone was ringing.

Except for occasional scrapes during the Saturday night dances at City Hall, Daly City, with its population under 10,000 was a peaceful community.

Daly City now has a population in excess of 57,000 with a police force numbering over 50 full time officers.

In 1927 Hillside boulevard was just a road with pastures and cows grazing along the way. Daly City consisted of the Vista Grande tract, the Crocker tract ("everything was west of Mission street").

The old police station in the vicinity of the present city hall had a jail downstairs. Prisoners were kept overnight and if it looked like they had to stay awhile longer they were taken to Redwood City.

The old time force had only one police car, an old Hudson. Each shift used the car. Jack Doyle and Otto Schramm worked the day shift. William Hopman and Barney Hilton worked nights.

Barney, a likable fellow and sort of a good samaritan, often had the task of dealing with drunks who fell asleep on the old electric "Owl" street car line and ended up in Daly City.

If they were broke and without a fare, he would help them out and send them back into San Francisco. Barney had a pet dog that helped him on his rounds.

The old police uniforms, a light brown color, of the World War I type with round collars were copied from uniforms used by the San Francisco police department.

Otto Schramm, who grew up in Daly City, remembers the community as "a grand place." "I always loved it."

People in Daly City, he said, were always kind and helpful to one another.

In 1941 Schramm moved to Millbrae. For the past 34 years he has worked with the Highway Patrol. He now works at Redwood City as a senior patrol sergeant.

Hopman retired from the Daly City police force and later passed away following an operation. Barney Hilton, retired from the department, is also deceased. Jack Doyle was killed on the job in Colma when he was sideswiped by a street car while escorting a person across a street.

New manager for Sanitary District

Robert Bernicke, a former employee of the Daly City engineering department, has been named district manager of the North San Mateo County Sanitation District, according to chairman Frank Pacelli.

Bernicke was employed by the well-known firm of Wilsey-Hamm and Blair, consulting engineers.

"I think he will be an important asset to the entire community," said Pacelli.

Council acts on two small annexations

The Daly City Council Monday approved the annexation of one city block and a portion of two others in an area which includes the Broadmoor police station and the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

In another action they set a Nov. 12 hearing on annexation of Pacific Gas and Electric Company property lying southerly of Geneva avenue and easterly of Schwerin street.

The first annexation, called the Pedemonte annexation, is named after Gus Pedemonte, one of the owners of the Cypress Hills Golf course and a major property owner in the area.

Pedemonte plans to build apartment houses on property he owns on 87th, 88th and 89th streets and has requested that multiple dwelling zoning be established in the area.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company property is an unincorporated strip of land lying between Daly City, San Francisco and Brisbane.

It includes a large PG&E storehouse and storage yard, to house poles and street light facilities for the San Francisco area.

'Tell us more of Communism,' say Daly City students

Facts about Communism should be taught in Daly City high schools, say some of its students.

"... a lawyer can't defend or prosecute before he has the facts ..." says one.

"I don't think it confuses the student, but makes him think," says another.

The Jefferson Union High School District completed a course of instruction, "About Communism," during the 1963 summer session.

The course was taught by George Griffin, who conducted two classes.

He asked his students to comment on the course.

"I feel that a doctor can't heal a patient before he knows what's wrong with him," wrote one student, "a lawyer can't defend or prosecute before he has the facts, an astronaut can't go into space without knowing its basic dangers; nor can Americans, nor any other people, conquer something they don't know anything about."

Another comment read, "... I feel this course is essential because so many people have such wild, misguided ideas about Communism or they don't know anything at all."

One felt that one semester is not enough to teach the subject and felt it should be combined with civics and economics.

And another said, "I think this is a worthwhile course because while you are learning about Communism, you are learning about the U.S., too."

More than 40 students took the course.

Big Summer School

Nearly 1,100 students completed summer school instruction during the 1963 session, says a report of Louis J. Martin, principal of the summer program.

In a review submitted to the high school district's board of trustees, Martin pointed out that a total of 1,316 students were enrolled in classes at the beginning of the 1963 session and 1,097 completed their work.

Over 50 instructors taught 64 subjects ranging from basic knowledges to communism, aeronautics, psychology and space science technology.

Enrollment in summer school has increased from 834 in 1960 to 1,316 in 1963.

About 17 per cent dropped out during the six-and-one-half week summer period.

Mental health service for North SM County

(First in a series of articles on mental health services for North San Mateo County. By Mrs. Roland E. Wick.

The establishment of mental health services in North San Mateo County has long been a subject of concern for people in this area. City Councils have urged action, school officials and citizens committees have asked for a North County mental health clinic.

It will become suplimental budget request by Dr. Joseph Downing, program chief of Mental Health Services, under Dr. H. D. Chope, director of the San Mateo County Health and Welfare department. To be presented—before the Board of Supervisors.

It appears that such a service may soon become a reality.

The Mental Health Association of San Mateo county, a volunteer organization, strongly supports the growth of such services within the community. It also wishes to help answer questions within the community about such services.—such questions as "what are mental health services", "how will it aid north county", "how much will it cost us", "who will it serve".

A quick review of growth of mental health services in San Mateo county shows this: In 1946 the San Mateo County Mentl Health society was formed by a group of interested citizens, and as a result of their efforts the county board of supervisors established a child guidance clinic in 1947. The adult clinic opened in 1951. A bond issue in 1952 was approved by the voters, allowing construction of a 30-bed psychiatric ward financed by federal, state and county funds. It opened in 1956.

In 1957 San Mateo was one of the original seven programs to be established in California under the new Short-Doyle Act, which gave 50 per cent support to community mental health services. San Mateo qualified by its existing 5-part program, which had grown since 1951 to include hospital treatment, clinical out-patient service for children and adults, rehabilitation, and consultation, education and information service.

San Mateo county now has a psychiatric day center, where patients who might otherwise require 24-hour treatment can receive needed daily professional treatment, yet continue their relationship at home uninterrupted. There is a 24-hour psychiatric emergency room (one of the few in the United States), pre-petition home visits by psychiatrists to those entering state hospitals, a psy-

Daly City sales tax income up from last year

Daly City received $145,499 from the state in local sales and use tax distributions from sales during the second quarter of 1963, according to the State Board of Equalization.

The amount is up 10.9 percent from the second quarter of 1962.

San Mateo County received $323,252 for its share, up 25.6 percent from last year at this time.

All the cities in the county and the county received a total of $1,878,335; 11.6 percent above last year's figures.

About half of this increase is due to population growth while improved business conditions and inflation account for the rest, according to George R. Reilly of the board.

$9-million insurance on schools

Buildings and their contents of the Jefferson Union High School District are insured against damage and destruction for $9,575,800, according to a report submitted to the District Board of Trustees meeting Monday.

Peter J. Markovich, president of the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents Association, told the board that the property is valued at $9,987,754.

Insurance covers 92 percent of this.

Seven insurance companies have underwritten the risk.

In addition, the board was told, the district is insured against claims of bodily injury, property damage caused by its vehicles, illness caused by foodstuffs served by the school, burglary, vandalism, and several other kinds of mishap.

'Where am I' asks confused tavern owner

Bernard Stuehler, owner of the Seven-Mile House Tavern at Bayshore and Geneva Ave., is sort of "in-between" due to recent annexations of Daly City and Brisbane.

He said his establishment is located 99 feet south of the Daly City line and 118 feet north of Brisbane.

Brisbane, he said, claims to have his property, but he wants to become part of Daly City in order to receive Daly City police and fire services.

Stuehler recently appeared before the Daly City council asking for police protection of his establishment.

"Actually, I don't know where we are," he admitted.

"I think we're on unincorporated land."

According to Stuehler, Daly City engineers told him he must move 23 feet in order to qualify for Daly City residency.

"Oh, what the heck," he admitted, "I'm selling out anyhow."

Suggest SSF schools boycott Alabama goods

A boycott of goods and materials used by the South San Francisco school district and emanating from Alabama has been suggested as a protest against the killing of four Negro children in the recent Birmingham church bombing.

Mrs. Joseph Cooper asked her fellow board members to support the campaign to reject any materials or goods the schools might purchase should they come from Alabama.

"The boycott would be one way of protesting the action", said Mrs. Cooper.

Trustee Leo Eserini said, "Let's find out exactly what happened before we start any boycott of an entire state."

"You're kidding. You must be. Four children were killed. They were murdered," declared Mrs. Cooper.

Daly City 'Ambassador' returns from Italy

Mary Jane Putz recently returned from a summer in Italy as part of the American Field Service program. She was sponsored by the Westmoor High School Chapter of AFS. Mary Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Putz, 19 Mayfield Ave., Daly City.

She was with a family in Ancona, Italy, on the Baltic Sea. Mary Jane also spent three weeks with a family in Rome, whose daughter was returning from a year in Minnesota at a high school under AFS.

She went there to meet people and see the life of people of Italy. She visited the country villages as well as cities, learned to speak Italian.

Mary Jane was impressed with the welcome given Americans and all of the castles on the hills. She liked the friendliness of the Italian people.

Most of them expressed the wish to visit America some day. She went on a boat to Europe with about 500 students from all over the United States.

Mary Jane Putz

There were 36 high school students under this program in Italy this summer. They met at Ancona to share and evaluate their experiences before returning home. The California students far outnumbered those of any other area when she returned home.

Mary Jane will be happy to speak of her experiences to civic and community organizations.

Hearing held on apartment

The Daly City planning commission last night held a hearing on a use permit filed by Percy Williams and Robert Niduk, 6630 Mission street, Daly City, to construct eight apartments units with downstairs business unit at 6644 Mission street.

Continued, pending a zoning study of the area is a petition filed by Primo R. Pepetto, 321 Columbus avenue, San Francisco, to establish C-1 zoning on the north side of Geneva avenue in Bayshore between Calgary and Rio Verde streets.

Apartment near Westmoor ok'd

Jefferson Union High School District Board officials Monday night moved to sell a piece of property and voted to spend some money to grade Oceana High School land.

The piece of property owned by the district will be sold as an apartment site.

The parcel, about 6,300 square feet is across Eastmoor Ave. opposite Westmoor High School.

Edward Morgan, superintendent for high schools, said the property is of no use to the district as a facility.

According to a state decision, money from the sale would be applied to loans made by the state to the district, Morgan told the board.

The board voted unanimously to advertise for bids.

A minimum of $11,750 was established and the construction was restricted to a multiple-unit dwelling.

Edward King, representing Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., told the board that his concern was interested in the property and planned an apartment building if awarded the bid.

A BIGGER OCEANA

Officials of the high school district took another step in their expansion plans for Oceana High School.

Board members moved to approve a bid of $23,852.75 from Ervin D. Varwig, Contractors and Engineers, of Palo Alto, to rough-grade land adjacent to the school.

Acting on a recommendation of the State Department of Finance, the board has required separate bids for the grading project and the construction of additional units.

The figure submitted by Varwig was a few thousand dollars higher than the architect's estimate.

Another bid of $440,940 was turned down.

Unification gets thumbs down vote

Daly City's Elementary School Board will cast a "no" vote on the unification of the Jefferson Elementary School District and the districts of Bayshore, Brisbane and Laguna Salada.

The San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization meets Oct. 1 to take the vote.

At the meeting of the Elementary District's Board of Trustees Monday, members instructed their chairman, Thomas F. Noonan, to cast the negative vote.

Elementary school board members of the four districts have unanimously agreed that unification under the current plan would place inequalities on the financial abilities of the districts.

One of Daly City's chief objections notes Pacifica's lack of industry and states including Laguna Salada in the unified district means a rise in Daly City taxes.

CHRISTEN PROBLEMS

Board members reaffirmed a resolution to limit their jurisdiction in the Christen annexation area.

The group reaffirmed a 1960-1961 resolution which sets the southern boundry of the Christen territory at Hickey Blvd.

This boundry will divide the Jefferson Elementary School District from the South San Francisco School District.

Jefferson board members are disturbed over action taken a short time ago by South San Francisco designed to redistrict its territory and place Christen pupils now in South City jurisdiction in the Jefferson District.

At the invitation of Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, the Daly City Elementary Board and offiicals will meet with City Council to discuss problems involved in the annexation of the Christen land.

GUIDANCE CENTER

Dr. Richard Foster, superintendent of the district, was empowered to offer space in one of the elementary schools to the County Medical Health group for use as a child guidance center, by the board.

9,200 KIDS

Latest enrollment figures for elementary schools in Daly City show 9,272 pupils enrolled, Dr. Richard Foster, superintendent, told the board.

Pacifica girl hurt in crash

Kay Kuhlman, 19, of 1473 Palou St., Pacifica, was in serious condition at Mills hospital after an auto accident at El Camino Real and Twelfth Ave. Saturday.

Also hurt in the same accident was Louise Lasouley, 18, of 1473 Drake Ave., Burlingame, who suffered a head injury and fractured rib. She was transferred to Peninsula hospital, is in the intensive care unit and her condition is 'fair."

chosomatic clinic, and nursing-home consultation. It has a strong rehabilitation program which aids patients in returning to healthy, secure roles in their homes and community. It's consultation service provides county-wide advice agencies, teachers, physicians and others involved directly with people.

Dr. Chope and Dr. Downing are nationally known in the field of community mental health service.

One example of mental health services which grew directly out of a community desire for help is the unit in Pacifica.

Dr. William Serbin of the mental health services division, heads this service in an area of 23,000 residents.

It provides home visits group therapy, brief directive counceling, individual office treatment as well as community contact with school personnel, ministers, public health nurses and various community agencies.

Similar services would be available in Daly City, a north county mental health clinic.

Policeman shoots armed motorist

A misunderstanding with a Daly City police officer early last Friday ended in gunfire.

Carl A. Silveira, a 45-year-old cabinet maker, who lives at 744 Steward Ave., Colma, was taken to County General hospital in San Mateo for treatment of a leg wound.

According to police, Silveira had brandished a revolver at officer Charles Phillips during a routine investigation and then refused to halt upon command.

The driver, officers said, was halted at the entrance to Thornton Beach at 12:20 a.m. and was asked for identification. The motorist drove away and was halted about a half-mile down the road.

Police said Silveira stepped from his car and pointed a .45 caliber revolver at the officer.

Phillips fired one round from his revolver, which struck Silveira in the leg. Silveira was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Industrial Park planned for SP Rail Yards?

A "Southern Pacific Industrial Park" is being planned for the Bayshore City railroad yards of the company, according to some informed sources.

Plans for the park were incidentally revealed during a Brisbane City Council discussion of a branch fire station to serve the area.

The new industrial park will be in territory recently annexed by Brisbane.

The area is presently part of the Bayshore Fire District.

However, says Brisbane City Manager Lanier Brady, the Southern Pacific Company has not officially disclosed their plans to the city.

Probe murder, suicide

A Daly City man appears to have murdered his wife over the week-end and then to have taken his own life.

Esther Charette, 40, was discovered dead on the kitchen floor on her home at 184 St. Francis Blvd. Monday night by relatives.

She had been stabbed in the left collar bone and had two deep cuts on the back of her head.

A steak knife was found beside the body.

Her husband, Robert, 43, was found first in the garage of the house with a hunting-knife and a tile-layer's knife beside his body.

San Mateo County Coroner Robert Jessen said the husband had a slashed left wrist and had bled to death.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of the dual fatality.

Daly City detectives say that there is every immediate indication of a murder and suicide.

Neither police nor relatives can offer a reason for the killings; no notes have been found.

The pair had cancelled plans for a trip to the East Coast with Robert Charette's mother and a dinner engagement Saturday night at the home of the dead man's brother, Raymond, of Daly City.

Raymond Charette and Esther Charette's brother, Anthony Costanzo of San Francisco, discovered the bodies.

Raymond became concerned when he saw lights burning in the house Monday and entered the garage Monday night with Costanzo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charette had no children.

DRIVER ERROR CAUSES ACCIDENTS

Driver error caused an estimated 95 percent of the highway accident in 1962.

Five Chamber directors named

Five directors of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, whose terms will expire this year, were re-nominated last Thursday at a meeting at Cypress Hills Golf Club. Election will be Oct. 17.

They are: Ramona Birke, Daly City Hostess; second vice president David Friedenberg, attorney; Fred Martin, real estate and insurance; Parkes Harris, manager of First Western Bank and Edward Morgan, superintendent of Jefferson High School District.

City councilman Frank Pacelli said hearings will be held for the public to find out both "good and bad" points of the proposed Christen lands annexation. Then, he said, the public can decide whether it is a good annexation or a bad annexation.

Jack Kendree, Chamber director and manager of the Westlake Shopping Center, 333 Park Plaza, was named by president Bernard Lycett to direct the annual Chamber of Commerce Christmas party.

County of San Mateo

Fact Sheet

By Floyd F. McCue

The board of supervisors as voted 3-2 to apply to the ederal government for a $539,-00 grant to aid in the pur-hase of the San Carlos Air-ort, which if not saved for ublic use will soon be placed the market for development r industry or homes. In rec-mmending the application, ounty Manager E. R. Stall-gs said the action would in way commit the county to through with the purchase ntil further study justifies ch expenditures.

Airport owners have given e county 10 days to reach firm agreement of purchase fore offering the property developers. Supervisor hairman James Fitzgerald posed the move because "we ve more important projects at need available funds." Su-rvisor E. R. McDonald cited aintenance and operation as added burden over acquisi-n costs.

Manager Stallings pointed t the airport would encour-e use of surrounding lands an executive park, particu-rly for firms that use their n planes. He estimated that would cost $427,000 to put e airport in top operating ndition. This figure includes $150,000 administration ilding which is not an im-ediate necessity.

Since the county is turning er the Palo Alto Airport er to that city and Santa ra County, this county has ly the Half Moon Bay Air-rt for private plane use. Fu-re growth indicates the San rlos Airport is needed to ovide facilities for the south unty to tie in with the Half on Bay and International rports.

Supervisors approved rezon-g for 10.76 acres in West-rough from residential to mmercial. The parcel at the nction of Skyline and West-rough Blvds., will not be al-wed to become an area of high density apartments. The developers had asked for C-1/S-1 zoning which would have allowed apartments of 500 square feet per dwelling unit.

Although agreeing that the developers have every intention of completing the project strictly on a commercial basis, supervisors wanted more protection against high density units. If for some reason commercial plans did not pan out or if the ownership changed hands the S-1 zoning would allow apartments without further application. It was agreed S-7 zoning—7,500 square feet per dwelling unit—would be a proper safeguard. Should a change be sought for higher density the matter would have to be set for public hearings before both the county planning commission and the board of supervisors.

Provisions of "S" zoning will be carefully studied by a citizens committee now being formed by the board of supervisors, following a sugggestion by Town Hall Association.

So-called town houses or row homes have been approved this year for the first time for Westborough homes and Hillpark homes (adjoining Menlo Park). The matter of high density in unincorporated areas is a matter of much concern to many county officials and the special study, it is hoped, will come up with changes in the laws to meet present needs.

Will San Mateo County levy a hotel-motel room tax to help finance the proposed $3 million convention center being planned for the county fairgrounds? Such a tax has been suggested by Supervisor James Fitzgerald and is being studied by the board and the owners affected.

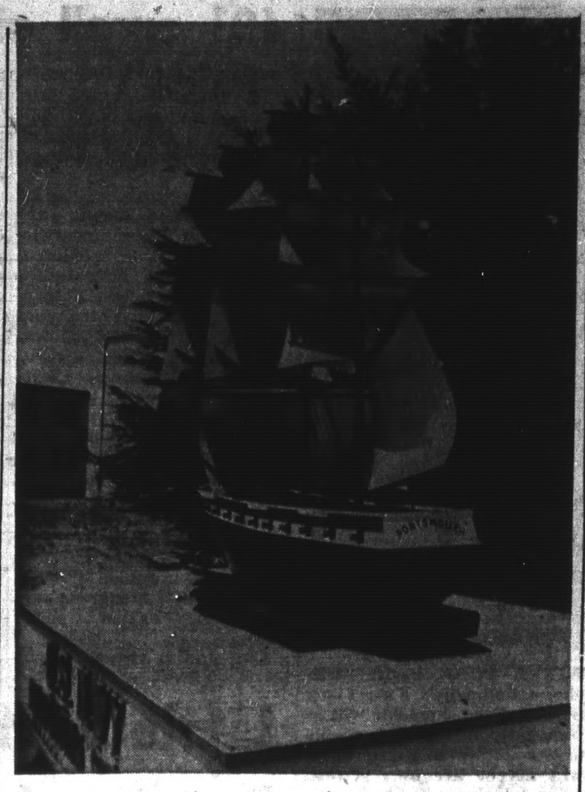

Details of the architectural competition for the auditorium will be announced soon. Other means of financing being discussed are lease-purchase, revenue bonds and pay-as-you-go.

County officials were shocked to learn that San Francisco was assessing its hotel tax on the Hilton Inn at the San Francisco Airport. District Attorney Keith Sorenson is studying the legal question of an outside jurisdiction levying such a tax in the unincorporated territory of San Mateo County.

Michael S. Bezvoda on attack transport

OLD SHIP — Replica of USS Portsmouth to be displayed Oct. 2 and 3 in Westlake Shopping Center.

Navy to display replica of old ship

The U.S. Recruiting Office located at 6705 Mission St. in Daly City will display a replica of the USS Portsmouth at the Country Fair to be held at the Westlake Shopping Center, Oct. 2nd and 3rd.

The Portsmouth was in her time among the fastest sailing ships of the old Navy and had a history of mighty deeds behind her. Second of that name, she was built at the Navy Yard at Portsmouth, N.H., in 1843 as a 20-gun first class sloop of war of 846 tons displacement, and at a cost of $170,000. Under the command of J. B. Montgomery, she sailed for the Pacific Coast, arriving in San Francisco on June 3, 1846.

During this cruise, war with Mexico had been declared and on July 9th a detachment of 70 men from the Portsmouth landed in San Francisco, and hoisted the American flag over what is still called Portsmouth Square, taking possession of the city in the name of the United States.

Pacifica Group Backs Council Candidates

Of interest to the Pacifica political scene is the announcement of the formation of the Pacifica Citizen's Alliance for Responsible Government (PCA), and its support for the bids of Grace McCarthy and Jimmy Fox in the 1964 city council election.

Comprised of a number of prominent Pacifica citizens, the PCA, through its co-chairmen, James M. Cooper and William Henderson, local civic leaders, revealed the group has been meeting for over six months for the purpose of reviewing the local political situation.

Mr. Cooper and Mr. Henderson said the PCA has been deeply concerned with the status of the council-manager form of government in Pacifica. Cooper, acting as spokesman for the entire group, said further: "The often subtle, but persistent erosion of the council-manager plan of local government, generated by the present council majority, regardless of motivation, has to date been blunted by an alert citizenry. But any lapse of scrutiny on the part of the voter, in the opinion of the PCA, might result in the further impairment of responsible and effective municipal government.

"To provide a vehicle for Pacificans to constantly pursue this scrutiny, we established the PCA, and it is our intent to solicit the active participation of all citizens interested in re-establishing the city council as a purely legislative and policy-making body." Mr. Cooper continued:

"The early announcement of the candidacies of Grace McCarthy and Jimmy Fox brought into focus a prime responsibility of our Alliance: To support candidates who, as city councilmen, will truly understand their positions of trust as representatives of our community. As we reviewed lists of possible candidates who could meet our standards of integrity, experience and electability, Mrs. McCarthy and Mr. Fox continually showed up at the top of our list."

The club meets regularly every Wednesday evening from 7:30-9:30 in the War Memorial Community Center. Tonight's activities will feature dance contests—twist, freeze, limbo, slow and waltz—with prizes being awarded to the winners. In addition to its Wednesday night program, special events and activities are scheduled on a monthly basis by the club's executive council.

Members who have joined during the membership drive will be guests of the club at a rollerskating party next Wednesday evening October 2 from 7:30-8:30 at Rollerland. Only cost of the trip will be 40 cents for transportation and insurance. Skating and skate rental is free.

Drunk charges follow crash

Two San Francisco men who fled the scene of an auto crash in Pacifica were arrested Saturday for drunkenness.

Booked at county jail were Wayne Johnson, 32, who was driving, and Grady W. Bardwell, 30.

Patrolman Robert Pasquinelli said Johnson drove his car out of the parking lot of the Wander Inn and collided with a car driven by James F. Sawyer, 37, of San Francisco. Sawyer's wife, Arlene, 29, and mother, Mrs. Rita Sawyer, sustained minor injuries.

Pasquinelli said Johnson fled the scene but was caught a mile away by Pacifica police officer M. R. Nelson. Nelson said he was chasing Johnson's car when it ran into an embankment.

Daly City Directory closes this week-end

Closing date for the new Daly City-Colma directory has been set for this week-end, and all advertising and news material must be in by that time to be included, according to Ramona Birke, Daly City hostess who is preparing the directory.

When completed, in a few weeks, 20,000 copies will be printed and distributed to all home in Daly City, Westlake, Broadmoor and Colma, while additional copies will be given to new residents moving into the area.

The much-needed directory, the first local listing since 1959 will carry information on service clubs, city services, schools, churches and other activities as well as advertising of local merchants.

"We have had a very good response from both merchants and service organizations in getting copy ready," said Miss Birke. "As a result, this will be the most complete directory of activities of this community available, as it will not be combined with San Francisco, but be exclusively ours."

Those wishing to be included in the directory should call Miss Birke at PL 6-3832 or PL 6-6169.

Teen club membership drive begins

The membership drive for the two junior teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Dapartment meeting west of Junipero Serra boulevard is scheduled to open this Friday night for two meeting period.

A full slate of special events are being planned by the club's executive council including a hayride, movie night, participation in the all teen carnival and a special holiday season dance.

A realignment in club boundary lines has seen the combining of the Roof Raisers and Westlake Swingers Junior Teen Clubs into one group. This club will now meet regularly at the Westlake Park Clubhouse. Main item for members of the newly combined group will be the selection of a club name.

Lions to sell white canes for the blind

Local Lions Club appeal for funds to aid the blind was voiced by White Cane Day Chairman, Ed Burns. The event will occur on Friday & Saturday, October 4th & 5th. On those days Lions put aside business and jobs to collect funds. Wearing special insignia, they will be stationed in and around shopping areas.

Among many items being provided the sightless and sight handicapped are special glasses, Braille training and writing machines, seeing-eye dog clinics and all-too-scarce facilities.

Probably most touching of these stricken are the little ones. Lions White Cane aid provides the highly skilled personnel required to help over their handicap and to develop useful occupations. These workers report blind children to tell of seeing this or seeing that for they are learning to substitute other senses: touch, smell, hearing.

Blindness for some is from birth. For others it is a later misfortune. One thing is certain; whenever it strikes, help is surely needed.

"Win-A-Fone" contest at St. Francis Square

Daly City teen-agers will have a chance to win their own private color telephone for an entire year in St Francis Square shopping center's "WIN-A-FONE" contest, currently under way.

The contest, which runs from Sept. 25 until Sept. 28, will be open to teen-ager between the ages of 13 and 19 years of age.

Entrants in the contest are not required to purchase anything or to fill out a questionnaire. Contestants need only to fill out coupon advertisements available in all St. Francis Square stores. Contestants may fill out one coupon in each store.

First prize for the lucky winning teen-ager is a private, color telephone for one year. Second prize is a $10 merchandise order and 3rd through 5th winners will each receive a $5 merchandise order.

A public drawing will be held in front of Nora's House of Beauty in St. Francis Square on Saturday, Oct. 5. Winners do not have to be present at the drawing.

As an added attraction at the center, a colorful exhibit of the Pacific Telephone Company's traveling Science Trailer will be featured in the parking area Saturday, Sept. 28, from 10:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Conducting tours through the unique, air - conditioned trailer will be two employees of the telephone company, Diana Miller and Susan Murphy. They will explain the evolution of communicating by voice, starting with replicas of sets used by Alexander Graham Bell; through dial telephones and Direct Distance Dialing, and TELSTAR, the communications satellite.

Other exhibits in the 40-foot trailer take the visitor into the future. One shows push-button telephones, and the revolutionary Phonovision, which will permit visitors to actually see themselves on a miniature TV screen that is part of this fascinating new telephone.

There is also a demonstration of the amazing optical maser, an experimental method of carrying all kinds of communication by means of light beam. Another exhibit deals with the early warning defense network across the Arctic.

Each exhibit is constructed to give viewers an idea of how the equipment works. Science Trailer Hostesses will make calls or transmit other sounds over all the equipment, including the TELSTAR model and the maser.

The exhibit is free to everyone coming to the center. St. Francis Square is located at Southgate Ave. and St. Francis Blvd. in Daly City.

WIN-A-FONE, Pacific Telephone Company's exciting Science Trailer exhibit will be pleasantly mixed with a contest enabling a teen-ager to win his or her own private, color telephone in St. Francis Square's teen-ager "WIN-A-FONE" contest. Pictured above are exhibit manager Art Cowderoy and two lovely Telephone Company hostesses who will conduct tours through the 40-foot Science Trailer. TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

NBC's brilliancy colored peacock is spreading its wings over the most colorful television season yet with more programs than ever before telecast in color. Besides returning old favorites such as "Sing Along with Mitch," "Meet the Press," "Bell Telephone Hour," many new programs have been added to the color schedule.

Highlighting NBC's schedule too is that during the 1963-64 season more than 40 full-hour special news and information programs will be presented. Subjects will range from the ancient past of Greece to the future of medicine. Good news too is that many of the programs will be seen in nightime periods and many will be produced in color.

The small fry have not been forgotten either. NBC has revised its entire children's adventure, information, comedy, and fantasy to give youngsters a better balanced television diet. Important addition to their children's schedule includes a full hour theater series of four special programs beginning next month. Slanted toward first and second graders the programs will all be in color. Sure to make a hit with children will be a full hour animated color musical feature titled "Return to Oz." It is an original script based on the classic story "Wonderful Wizard of Oz." NBC's local outlet for the Bay Area is KRON-TV.

Vista Mar coordinates future teachers program

Vista Mar is coordinating with Westmoor High School in promoting a program for "Future Teachers of America" (FTA). Counsellor for the program, Mr. Evans Maionchi, contacted the Vista Mar principal, Marjorie Tobias, in order to plan for an orientation of these interested high school students, who plan to enter the teaching profession.

During the orientation students were given insight into the significant and important "parent" role played by the teacher in terms of developing social, as well as, academic growth, the importance of security and success at the classroom level, and the various responsibilities of the classroom teacher.

These high school students will be spending about an hour a day in classrooms assisting teachers in non-academic tasks, namely, assisting at physical education, preparing duplicator masters, typing, and various other household and clerical duties involved in the teacher role.

Initial contact to initiate the program was made by Westmoore Vice - Principal Mr. Thomas Panagoulais.

Memorial organ purchased by church

The Margaret Pauline Brown Memorial Organ has been purchased for the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, and will be installed about Dec. 1st, it was announced by Rod Barnes, chairman of the Organ Fund Committee of the local church.

An Allen TC-3 was the selection of the committee, who have been visiting church organ installations and organ salesrooms in the Bay Area since early in June. The committee chose the particular model as most closely approaching the ideal instrument for the size of the sanctuary and the money to be raised.

About 85 per cent of the $10,000 goal has already been contributed or pledged since June 1st of this year, encouraging the committee to proceed with the purchase of the organ.

The organ is named in honor of the late Margaret Pauline Brown, long-time Colma resident, civic leader, teacher, and churchwoman. Mrs. Brown was an active member of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church until her death in 1958. A legacy of $1,000 was left to the church by her, and is being used in the Organ Fund.

Something for Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

Let's go back to a topic we discussed last year—jazz. Originally the word described a thing of zig-zag or unsteady nature. It is said that the term was introduced to music with these lines:

"Ole man Johnson's jazzing around./Don't push him, don't touch him/Or he'll fall to the ground./He's sure to be late/Kase he can't walk straight./He's just jazzing around."

Jazz is an inclusive term for ragtime, dixieland, swing, boogie-woogie, bebop, rock and roll, rippling rhythm, etc. The journalist, Hiram K. Motherwell called jazz, "the perfect expression of the American City, with its restless bustle and motion, its multitude of unrelated details and its restless bustle and motion, its multitude of unrelated details and its underlying rhythmic progress." Another says that jazz has been a wholesome distraction of a war-wearied world.

Jazz does not appeal to some critics, however. One defines it as "the vigorous use of noisy instruments to produce crazy rhythms for grotesque dances." Still another called it, "an approach to jungle standards."

While the critics ponder the value of jazz, it has become so much a part of American literature, that libraries all over the country are adding jazz collections to their record departments.

The Daly City Public Libraries have added a library of fifty-one jazz titles. Some of these are: Louis Armstrong story, Count Basie and his Orchestra, Dave Brubeck: Jazz impressions of U.S.A., Ray Charles: Genius—Soul—Jazz, Duke Ellington Uptown, Stan Getz: West Coast Jazz, Benny Goodman: Great Benny Goodman, Woody Herman: Early Autum, Stan Kenton: Artistry in Rhythm, Jelly Roll Morton, Classic Piano, Anita O'Day: Sings the winners, Joe Williams. Everyday I have the Blues, and Classic Jazz Collection, Volumes 1-5.

r Mr. Harrah:

is difficult to give ade- te expression to what we, Daughters of Charity, and others working for the suc- s of the Mary's Help Hos- l campaign, feel in our rts for your most generous tment of this project, as ected in last Wednesday's e of your fine newspaper.

ur Mr. Hoffman tells me in addition to giving us ually the front page of this ticular issue, you also made a gift of that splendid rter-page advertisement on editorial page, a position ch I understand is second in value to the front page. nfortunately, our cam- gn has dragged in the Hos- l's new service area — rth San Mateo County — re one would think its d and benefits would be st keenly understood and reciated. Income here 2nd highest

People in San Mateo County made the second highest average income in the state during 1961, according to the latest figures of the State Franchise Tax Board.

Incomes in the county averaged $10,064 as indicated by state income tax returns filed in 1962, says State Controller Alan Cranston.

Marin County ranked first with an average of $10,398 and Santa Barbara third with $9,701.

The report shows the average adjusted gross income per taxable return filed throughout the state in 1962 was $8,844. The average tax paid was $85.20.

Incomes in 1961 were 7.6 percent higher than the previous year and a new high for personal income in the state.

Woodrow Wilson PTA first meeting held

The first Woodrow Wilson P.T.A. meeting for the new term was held on September 17, in the Multi-Use Room.

President Mrs. Albert Taylor conducted a brief business meeting, and then introduced the new Principal, Mr. Peter Hansen, to the unit parents.

Curriculum was the theme for the evening. Principal Peter Hansen introduced the faculty and invited parents to meet with the teachers in their respective classes. The parents were informed of the course that their children would persue for the coming year.

New teachers and students were welcome to the Woodrow Wilson School. Teachers new to Woodrow Wolson this year include Mrs. Marianne Schwabacher, Miss Claudia Biane, Miss Barbara Bertram and Mrs. Patricia Ladner. Student teachers who are assigned to Woodrow Wilson for a nine week period are Mrs. Veronica Grey, Mrs. Sally Privette and Robert Parcia.

On October 15th at 7:30 p.m. the Jefferson Elementary School Board Trustees have been invited to the unit meeting and are to be featured on the program. This is the time for parents to attend a question and answer session concerning future plans for the school.

A new school up to the third grade is in the planning for Woodrow Wilson.

Both of these clubs meet on the 2nd and 4th Friday evenings of each month at the sites indicated. Membership is open to all 7th and 8th grade students living west of Junipero Serra in Daly City, Colma or Broadmoor. Youth living north of Eastmoor, Ocean Grove and Upland Avenues attend the club meeting at Westlake Park. Students living south of the above line attend the Telstars.

The membership drive for both clubs will be for two meetings—September 27 and October 11, climaxed by a free rollerskating party for all new members, Friday, October 18. Memebrship fee is 75 cents per year and applications are being distributed at Benjamin Franklin School to all students.

The seven flags which flew over California and numerous flags of the colonies during the Revolutionary war will be on display.

Verducci, city fathers praised for fund support

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci and other city officials were paid tribute at a recent meeting of the Mary's Help Hospital Campaign Committee.

Judge George B. Harris, co-chairman of the committee, told the group that the officials of Daly City had given enthusiastic support and cooperation in the struggle to bring the facility to the area.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Rev. Richard W. Power, pastor of Our Lady of Mercy Church, who spoke of the urgency to bring the fund drive to a speedy and successful conclusion.

The campaign has been stepped up in intensity due to a Nov. 1 deadline to raise $900,000.

If the amount is not raised by this time, the number of beds in the hospital will have to be sharply reduced, say campaign heads.

The railway post office, a railroad car in which mail is sorted and distributed en route, was first put in regular service on the Chicago & Northwestern Railway in 1864.

Carlos D. Goodwin at 'Bayonet Beach'

Carlos D. Goodwin, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Le-Roy J. Goodwin of 623 Miller Ave., Pacifica, serving aboard the destroyer USS Collett, recently participated in joint Army-Navy amphibious landing exercises on the beach of Pohang, Korea.

Dubbed "Bayonet Beach", the amphibious assault operation involved the Navy's 7th Fleet units and the Army's 7th Infantry Division. It started Aug. 29 when the attack transport UUS Henrico, flagship of Commander Joint Amphibious Task Force, began loading assault troops at Inchon. At the same time, five other Navy ships took on supporting equipment, vehicles and supplies needed for the landings.

As a unit of Destroyer Division 92, Collett provided escort services enroute to Pohang and support fire during the exercise.

The successful assault landings demonstrated the combined efforts of the Army and the Navy in supporting the amphibious motto: "United We Land."

Collett normally operates out of Yokosuka, Japan.

Medical Self-Help

Millions of Americans have been trained on "what to do until the doctor comes" through the Red Cross First Aid Program. It is a good program and no one knows how many lives may have been saved because someone had this training.

Now, a most logical step has been initiated — "what to do if the doctor never comes"—the Medical Self-Help program. It is designed to teach American families essential health skills, ranging from hygiene and sanitation to emergency childbirth.

Reason for the plan is obvious. In any emergency or major disaster, or even everyday accidents, if the doctor cannot come, the individual families will have to assume medical and health responsibilities. The new plan has been developed to meet this need.

San Mateo County is the first county in the nation to offer this program with registration Thursday, Oct. 3 at 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at all high schools. Classes will start the following week, and cover eight lessons.

This is a most worthwhile project. We hope that some member of every family in Daly City will avail themselves of this fine training.

Letters to The Editor

Thanks city for saving fingers

Editor: The following letter was received by the City Manager:

Mr. Ed Frank,
City Manager,
365 Wellington,
Daly City, California.
Dear Mr. Frank:

On Saturday night, June 29, while using the electric mixer to mash potatoes for dinner my fingers became entangled in the beater. To release them it would be necessary to completely cut the beater apart.

It was about 7 p.m. and I had no idea where to go to find the necessary cutter to do this. Luckily the friends we had invited to dinner thought of the Fire House and drove me there. On arrival I certainly received the red carpet treatment. Everyone of the firemen on duty seemed to know just what to do. In no time they had released and bandaged my fingers, called an ambulance and I was on my way to the Emergency Hospital. I was operated on at the French Hospital that night.

I am now happy to report that my cast was removed yesterday and while I still have two bandaged fingers, the doctor assures me the healing is progressing very satisfactorily.

I want to specially thank Battalion Chief M. G. Hanson who really took charge. At the Emergency Hospital they particularly mentioned how well my fingers had been bandaged.

Until that Saturday night I had no idea of the many functions of the Fire Department and the efficient way they operate. It sure gives one a sense of security to know this.

Please pass my sincere thanks on to the Fire House at 151 Lake Merced Blvd.

Sincerely,
Lillian O. Requa,
57 Fairlawn Ave.,
Daly City, Calif.

Thanks police curb on vandals

Editor: The following letter was received by the Daly City Chief of Police:

Chief Roland Petrocchi
Daly City Police Department
City Hall
Daly City, California
Dear Sir:

I had occasion on the night of July 1 to call the Daly City Police Department for an evident case of mischief which occurred to my property situated at 61 Rockridge Avenue, Westlake Knolls. During my absence at my place of business some children had thrown clods of dirt at the back of my property and, in so doing, had broken a window in one bedroom. Officer Coleman responded to my call and, after viewing the damage, went to the house on Shelbourne directly south of me and in back of my property, and there found one of the children who had been involved in this escapade, and received a verbal commitment from the lady of the house, a Mrs. Jones, that she would contact me the following day to find out what the cost of restitution would be.

As a citizen of our community, I would like to commend Officer Coleman for his prompt and efficient actions in the above matter, and also to extend a commendation to those who have the selection of men who compose the Daly City Police Department in obtaining officers of this type to serve the citizens of our city.

People are very prone to complain about many aspects of gevernment, but I feel equally strongly that when a good job is done it should be commended.

Sincerely,
John H. Brooke, Manager
Personnel & Safety Division

'Adult' drama planned by Pacifica Players

The Pacifica Players announced this week that casting has been completed for their forthcoming production of "Night Must Fall."

An extremely entertaining drama, written by Emlyn Williams as a starring vehicle for himself in the role of Dan, it was first produced in London in 1935, and has enjoyed considerable success throughout the United States ever since.

Slanted primarily at an adult audience, the theme is that of suspenful murder, running the gamut of emotions from comedy to tragedy, with overtones of sex and hysteria.

Director Sandy Heys has lined up the following cast: Chief Justice, Don Brewer; Mrs. Bramson, a middle aged, crochety invalid, Jean Young; Olivia, her niece, Jomar Bergez; Dora, the maid, Nancy Greer; Mrs. Terence, the cook, Lil Higgins; Hubert Laurie, Olivia's suitor, Bob Anderson; Nurse Libby, Carolyn Milling; Inspector Belsize, from Scotland Yard, Nat Marks; Dan, a bellboy from a nearby hotel, Gene Merwyn.

Sets are in the process of construction under the supervision of Stage Manager Austin Mallett, and rehearsals are under way for the production, which will be presented at the Oddstad Community Center in Linda Mar on Friday and Saturday nights, Oct. 25 and 26, and Nov. 1 and 2. Prices for all performances are scaled at $1.50, and tickets will be on sale within the next week or two, at various locations to be announced shortly.

Tourists see dinosaur cave

Mrs. Wanda Jones and her daughter, Linda, 1023 87th St., were visitors at Dinosaur Caverns, Arizona, recently.

The caverns descend some 21 stories into the ground and are estimated to be between 250 and 300 million years old.

The View From Behind the Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

—Way of Life . . .

In their respective homes, the two officers arose at 4 a.m. A shave and a shower later they were on their way to the other city. They hoped to pick up their thief on a street corner there.

At 5:30 a.m. they were at their street corner. The street corner was located in a packing house district, and was immediately in front of a liquor store. People were known to congregate in front of that business. The officer's information was that their man was one of the hangers-on.

The officers had their warrant and their mugshot photograph. They were in civilian clothing and they lounged about the corner. They waited an hour and a half. Their man did not show.

But a lot of other people showed. The liquor store opened at 6 a.m., which is the legal hour. While observing that corner business, the officers concluded that it did a volume business. It was, in a way, a commentary upon the habits and mores of the community.

A study stream of customers flowed in and out of the door. Pints of wine were a popular item. Half pints of whiskey also sold.

The lighted store, and the next-door bar lighted up the dark neighborhood. Truck lights from the packing houses added some light. Feeble streetlights continued to illumine inadequately.

The customers continued to arrive. These were not Third Street wino types. These were working people, and from their general appearances, hard working people as well. And most of them bought their bottle.

One man double parked his auto across the street. Lights and motor were both on, and he sleepwalked through the traffic and entered the store. He had a black eye. He was a little different from the other customers. His bottle was not bagged. He carried the container by its naked neck.

A couple, presumably man and wife, parked at the corner, in the crosswalk area. The man alighted from the vehicle and walked into the store. He emerged carrying a bagged pint of wine. He laid it on the seat of the auto and they drove off.

The officers conjectured extensively on this one. Which person needed the wine? They were both working people, obviously, and this implied male and female equality. Did they each go to their respective work with half of a pint of wine inside himself?

The officers, no teetotalers, were amazed and shocked This much wine in the morning must equate with alcoholic imbibing the night before. It appeared to be a continual and consistant thing. The people were following daily habit while entering and purchasing the alcohol—and presumably they were purchasing fortification against the fothcoming day of work.

Not all of these were roughly dressed work people, and not all of the business was conducted in the liquor store. The next door tavern was also open for business. And into this place went five or six well dressed and attractive women. The officers conjectured them to be office workers of the district—secretaries, perhaps.

These beauties ankled into the bar this 6 a.m. Each prettily esconced herself upon a high bar stool. Each ordered, paid for, and consumed a "horn" of alcohol. Then they minced chatteringly to work.

THE MOST POWERFUL VOICE IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

The Melodion Plays On

By Constance Carpenter Dunham

You step down into the cool, dim, half vacant museum. Dr. Frank Stanger greets you. He is slender and of medium height. His handshake is firm. The welcome is warm.

Explaining the disarray he says, "We're moving, you know." There is a note of pride in his voice.

It is not easy to separate the story of Dr. Stanger and that of the San Mateo Historical Museum. "I began in 1928 to teach history at the College. At that time all the College was housed in this Baldwin Avenue building.

"The San Mateo County Historical Associatio nwas organized in 1935. I attended a few meetings, and sometime later submitted a bibliography regarding the local Indians," he filled in the highlights.

Meanwhile, back in the history classroom at the College, Doctor Stanger's pupils began writing and doing research on local subjects. There developed a class in local history. Students uncovered the gold of data and stories residing in these hillsides.

"In 1937, one of the students, Mildred Cavanaugh, brought in an old piece of paper for me to study. It was the deathbed will, written in Spanish, of her great-great grandfather, Don Jose Sanchez, grantee of Rancho Buri Buri. The will was dated 1842. That's it under the yellow plexiglass in the corner showcase." Dr. Stanger motioned towards it.

The will caught public interest and became one of the most prized possessions of the museum.

"The year the Historical Association elected me president, I inherited the problem of a place for our growing collection." Dr. Sanger chucklked. "I remember crossing the campus one morning when Jerome Hamilton hailed me and suggested we might explore the possibility of housing the Museum at the College.

The College provided housing in a room formerly used to teach French, and some money for furnishings and equipment, such as showcases. It was a substantial beginning to an association of mutual benefit that has lasted all these years. February 1941 saw the gala opening of the San Mateo County Historical Museum.

"A highlight of the opening was music furnished by the Melodeon, an old family heirloom from Inez Crawford, former San Mateo City librarian," Dr. Stanger recalled. "It has a lovely tone." Brought to California in 1910, the Melodeon was given to the Museum through Miss Crawford's will, on condition that the Museum should prove itself "an enduring and worthwhile operation.

Since that gala opening other gifts or loans have been added to the Museum, and properly catalogued in one of the four periods of County history: pre-historic, Indian, Spanish-Mexican, early American and large estates. The displays at the new building will be arranged in this order.

From all this it would seem that the Museum has proved itself "an enduring and worthwhile operation." Dr. Stanger added, "I think the Museum and the Melodeon are here to stay.

Nun wins award for pharmacy

An 87-year-old Daly City nun who has spent 60 years of her life as a pharmacist today was named "Pharmacist of the Month" for her contributions to the community and to her profession by the board of directors of the Northern California Pharmaceutical association.

She is Sister Agatha Flynn, a member of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul and head of the Mary's Help Hospital pharmacy.

The energetic sister has been at Mary's Help hospital for the past 47 years and in addition to keeping stock control of the pharmacy and administrating its operation, supervising two young pharmacists, Sister Agatha spends much of her time visiting the sick and the poor throughout the city.

The award was made to Sister Agatha because of her contributions to the community in visiting the sick and the poor and for her efforts in helping to plan the new pharmacy at the Mary's Help hospital now under construction in Daly City.

FASHION NEWS: Stopping by to chat with Manager Lois Nacca of the Fashion we found her simply bubbling over with enthusiasm for the new fall fashions (she had just returned from Market Week in Los Angeles and San Francisco). We thought our feminine readers might be interested in a few of the new fall trends which she reported to us.

To be in fashion's swing whether entertaining at home or going dinner dancing, you must wear a full length gown. Long skirts are fashion news which you can use with different tops—long sleeve satin shirts, or for a more daring look, velvet tops with straps. The materials are elegant—rich mohairs, shaggy tweeds for daytime wear, brilliant velvets and brocades for evening. Colors? They are out of this world, bright shoking pink, passionate purple, peacock blue. So let yourself go this season and wear brilliant colors, high fashions. Isn't it fun to be a woman when all the new fashions descend upon us!

MUSICALLY SPEAKING: Daly City is off to a most exciting musical season. The Daly City Community Chorus (under direction of Patti Stolz) is booked practically solid for the next few months with just a few openings for concerts; The Daly City Adult Orchestra and the Daly City Youth Band (both under direction of Howard Loeffler' have started rehearsals and are welcoming new members each week. Altogether it promices to be a most tuneful season.

All summer long the Daly City Community Chorus has been rehearsing preparing for the fall season. They now have their own theme song, an original musical composition by talented Melody Gomez, a member of the chorus. They will close each performance with the beautiful song "Goodnight World".

The Daly City Adult Orchestra meets every Thursday at Westmoor Little Theater. There are openings for all instruments. The Youth Band meets on Tuesday evenings. Telephone Westlake Music Center for more information about activities of orchestra and band.

NEWS BRIEFS: Westmoor PTA executive board held their first meeting last week and they are off to a flying start with a full schedule of activities ahead. A highlight of the year is their annual dinner and game night planned for Dec. 7. Set aside the date now.

An important coming date too is Oct. 5. The W.S.C.S of Wesley Methodist Church will hold a donut sale at Susie's Donut Shoppe in St. Francis Square.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Gene Andrus of 24 Abbott Ave., Daly City, announced the engagement of their daughter, Carole Jean Andrus to Dwaine McDaniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of San Francisco. They are planning a spring wedding. The future bride is a graduate of Jefferson High School Class of 1962 and is now a Licensed Vocational Nurse at St. Luke's Hospital. Her fiance is an employee of Geo. Fensky Company in San Francisco.

YWCA fall season under way

The Daly City and Pacifica "Y Wives" and the Tuesday Bowling league met yesterday to launch the fall program of the San Mateo County YWCA.

Forty-eight members of the bowling league rolled the first games of the season as they met for the second time this month.

"We met last week to form our teams, establish rules and elect committee members," Mrs. Doris Arnott, the league secretary-treasurer, explained.

"At that time we elected to have an 80% handicap and we also elected Mrs. MaryAnn Peppins, Mrs. Beverly Waesanen and Mrs. Bernice Scanlon to the luncheon committee. Mrs. Yvonne McCambridge and Mrs. Dolores Calhoun were named to the trophy committee," Mrs. Arnott said.

Both Y Wives groups began the season with enlarged memberships and the promise of widely varied programming.

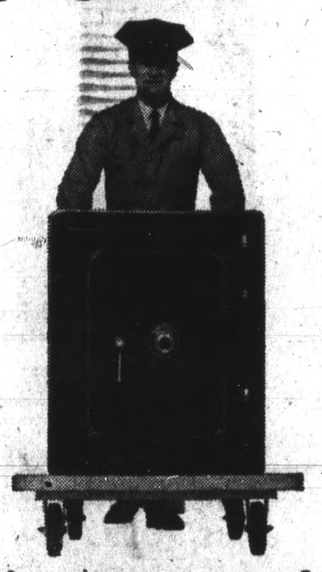

Mrs. Eleanor Raymond, leader of the Daly City Y Wives, announced that that group will be treated to a special series on charm to be conducted the third Tuesday of each month by the county YWCA director, Miss Virvinia Church.

Other Y groups starting this week include the Pacifica and Daly City Bridge Clubs, both which will meet this week at 10 a.m. in the Westlake Bowl.

Miss Church again suggests women interested in the YWCA activities should call the local office, PL 6-7370, for information concerning activities and membership.

Westmoor meets Riordan Friday

Seeks second win at Kezar

Westmoor's head football pilot, Coach Pete Matici, takes his varsity to Kezar Stadium in San Francisco this Friday to try and trample the Riordan High School Crusaders. Game time is 8 p.m.

Fresh from last week's decisive defeat of the Aragon Dons, Matici is looking for another victory, but he isn't saying that it's going to be easy.

As a matter of fact, he calls the Crusaders "a big, tough bunch of footballers" and says it may be a rugged game.

Nonetheless, the Westmoor Rams are going into this game with what Coach Matisci calls the best material he's had in seven years.

And, last year's squad looked pretty good as they swept the Northern Peninsula league with a perfect five wins and no losses.

The Ramsmen most likely to succeed this season and this Friday are probably Quarterback Bruce Hix, jersey No. 15; Halfback Ron Baker, No. 26; Fullback Dave Mahoney, No. 46, and Flanker Marc Mallanger, No. 83.

On the line, Tackle Bob Hansen, No. 72, and his teammate, Dan Hartman, No. 73, will be making their starts when the kickoff whistle sounds at 8 p.m.

Both these men are rated possible All-League material this year.

Bruce Hix will be doing the signal-calling again and is armed for an aerial attack to match his 64 yard gain in three completed passes of last week.

Hix is being tagged as one of the best passers in the Northern Peninsula League this season.

Running Crusaders

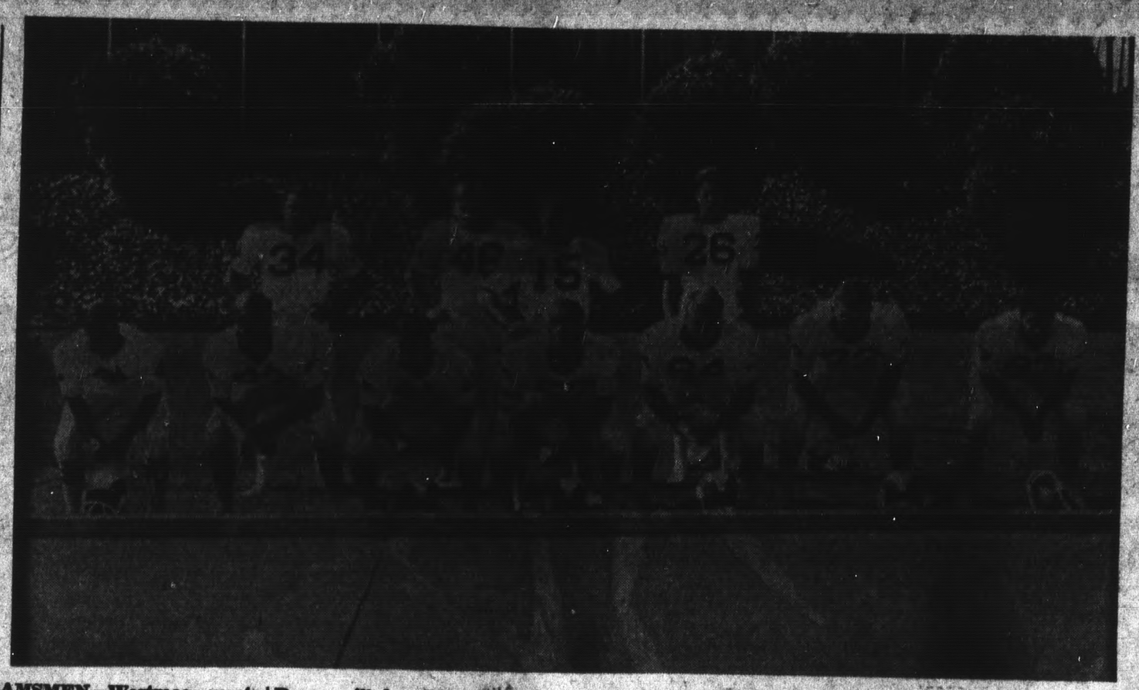

The Crusader's Coach Jerry Finnigan says he expects his team to make most of the yardage on the ground. A lot will depend on running plays designed around Halfback Joe Currie, Crusader No. 30 and Halfback Sandy Green, No. 20.

Last season Currie toted the ball 44 times for a distance of 207 yards and a credit of three TD's.

Green ran the ball 361 yards in 40 tries last year to average 9.0 yards and tap the number one rushing spot on the Crusader's eleven.

Finnigan also names co-captain Mike Cregan, No. 73, a tackle, and Quarterback Ron Calavano, No. 11, as men to watch Friday.

Finnigan has rated his Crusaders as being defensively sound if not experienced. And, it has been said they may be a little weakened in the backfield and may need some improvement in their quarterback department; but, Finnigan expects lots of wins when the season closes in a few weeks.

Westmoor beats Aragon eleven

With what Westmoor fans hope is a sign of things to come, the Rams butted their way to an easy victory over the Aragon High School Dons in the first tilt of the 1963 football affray.

The final score Westmoor 28, Aragon 6.

Aragon broke the ice early in the game by making their only touchdown and then couldn't repeat it.

Bruce Hix lived up to his reputation by providing some of the better played moments of the game as a double threat in the air and on the ground.

Hix and Ron Baker each accounted for two Westmoor touchdowns and a tally of 26 points.

Hix and the 205 pound 5-11 Dave Mahoney led their team on the ground with Mahoney carrying the ball 11 times to average 6.6 yards on each try and Hix carrying eight times for 5.5 yards per carry.

Westmoor goes against Riordan High under the lights in Kezar Stadium Friday.

Daly City's PAL Stars were squeezed into third place Saturday by a close margin as Misrack's Sporting Goods of San Francisco and the San Bruno Merchants placed one and two in the Third Annual Misrack's Invitational Midget Tournament.

The double elimination tournament which began on the Labor Day weekend was played at Margaret Hayward Field in San Francisco.

The go-around consisted of the top 16 midget teams in the Bay Area.

A total of 13 games were played.

The Misrack's team, which had been defeated by the San Bruno Merchants in a second round game by a score of 8-7, swept through seven straight games out of the loser's bracket to annex the crown.

A 13-man All-Star team was selected from the tournament. It consisted of: Pitchers, Mike Garrett, San Bruno Merchants; Jim McWilliams, Misrack's; Bob Hilsendager, Misrack's; 1st base, Steve Kirby, PAL Stars; 2nd base, Joel Lessor, PAL Stars; 3rd base, Mike Chiurco, San Bruno Merchants; shortstop, Donald Jones, Misrack's; left field, Garry Wilson, Ocean View; center field, Clinton Curry, Misrack's; right field, Lyle Fox, San Bruno Merchants; catcher, Larry Batistoni, PAL Pirates; utility infielder, Dennis Acevedo, Misrack's, and utility outfielder, Roosevelt Hunter, PAL Wildcats.

The Director's Trophy went to Gordon Contreras of the PAL Stars.

Jefferson topped by Trojans

The Terra Linda Trojans romped over Coach Joe McGrath's Jefferson Indians last Friday by a margin of eight points to end the duel 26 to 18.

All seem to agree that if the Indians had a more solid line things might have been different.

However, in the Indians' backfield, Leo Gotelli, Al Namanny and Wayne White did themselves proud for an early season effort by rushing for a total of 187 yards to mark up 2 TD's and 11 first downs.

White led the field by carrying the ball 86 yards in 10 tries. He also accounted for two of Jefferson's scores.

Gotelli drew first blood for the Indians by making the first TD of the game during the first quarter.

Jefferson meets Ravenswood this week.

HOT CAR — An Indianapolis-type sprint car roars wide open down the Jim McClennannan Champion Speedway track which opens Sept. 29. McClennan, who owns Champion Auto Parts and is a Westlake resident, is beginning his show with the first major auto racing of this type since World War II.

Indianapolis-type racers open at Champion Speedway

Jim McLennan's Champion Speedway will open its gates to auto-racing fans Sept. 29th with a program of Indianapolis-type sprint car racing.

Jim McLennan, owner and manager of the speedway, says he will have a field composed of top drivers in California.

Drivers from as far south as Los Angeles are clamoring for entry in the first major auto racing show featuring Indianapolis type cars in San Francisco since World War II.

McLennan, one of the top drivers and builders in drag racing circles, has put together a racing plant that exceeds most of the ovals in the nation.

A lifetime dream coupled with a quarter of a million dollars has made Jim McLennan's Champion Speedway a track heralded by drivers as "fast as lightning."

Race fans will see their favorites battling for the checkered flag, says McLennan.

Midgets, Indianapolis type sprint cars, late model stockers, hard tops, claimers and motorcycles will fill the air with snarling exhausts in the months to come.

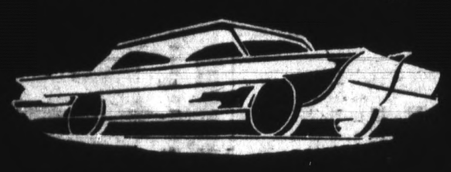

The plant itself was put together with comfortable grandstand seating providing a 100% view of every section of the track. Conveniently located snack bars, comfort facilities and free parking for over 3,000 cars round out San Francisco's answer to "big apple" racing.

Racing enthusiasts traveling north on Bayshore Freeway can reach the speedway by taking the Candlestick turnoff. Traveling south on Bayshore Freeway, Brisbane turnoff leads directly to Tunnel Road. There, large direction signs will show the way to the track.

Hustling Harriers tie Lincoln High

Westmoor's hustling harriers, running after only three days of practice proved tough as they tied Lincoln High School 28-28 in the Varsity competition at Golden Gate Park, Sept. 18. The Varsity missed the running of Chris Bravos, rated as one of the top three men on the team by last year's performance.

Junior Bob Beukers led the Rams with his second place time of 10:27 over a 1.95 mile course. Joe Singer of Lincoln placed first with a good time of 9:51. Senior Dennis Tracy grabbed fourth position with a clocking of 11:00. Making up the rest of the Ram "money men squad" were veterans Milo Torres and Ed Raymond, picking up sixth and seventh spots with times of 11:09 and 11:11. Bob Arriola completed the scoring by his ninth placing. Lincoln managed to take third, fifth, eight and eleventh spots for the tie.

Jayve and Soph-Frosh races were held together. The Rams came home victorious from this race with a 26-31 scoring.

Herb Decker and Stan Nelson ran together to take second and third with times of 11:46 and 11:51 over the same 1.95 mile course. Westmoor men also grabbed fifth, Ray Simonavich; seventh, Bruce Herald, and ninth, Stan Green.

Coach George Simon was pleased with the team's performance as he remarked: "Considering the three days of practic, the team showed a tremendous spirit, drive and desire to win. Everyone ran all out—an unusual occurrence at this early time of the season."

The Ram cross country boys face a tough Aragon squad in Aragon territory tomorrow, Sept. 26, at 3:30.

Top Junior Golfer Jimmy Fair Honored

Jimmy Fair of Daly City, top Westmoor High School golfer and California Junior Amateur champion, was honored last Thursday by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce at a meeting at Cypress Hills Golf Course.

Fair, who ranked 36th in the national in the Junior Division, thanked the Chamber membership for helping to sponsor him at the national tournament.

Jimmy took first in the California Junior Amateur tournament last summer, shooting a 293 for four rounds to beat out this year's National Junior champ.

A winner of the Fresno City Junior Championship a year ago, he was Northern California's Junior representative this year to the National Junior Champinoship tournament in South Carolina.

With his father this year he won the father-son city championship in San Francisco. He now is participating in the finals of the San Mateo City tournament, in which 16 of 104 qualified.

The number one player at Westmoor High for two years, he led his team to a 1963 League Championship and has been picked as the most valuable player for the past two years.

Last summer he placed second at the Salinas tournament.

Junior teen clubs opening

Organizational plans have been completed for the opening of the Daly City Recreation Department's new junior high teen club serving 7th and 8th grade students in the Bayshore area of the community.

Scheduled to begin this Friday evening in the multi-use room of the Bayshore School, the club will have regular meetings and activities each 2nd and 4th Friday evenings of the month from 7-9. In addition to its regular activities, club officers will plan a variety of special events and programs with the direction of their advisers.

Membership is open to all 7th and 8th grade youngsters living in the Bayshore Elementary School District. Applications are being distributed to students living in the area.

Appeal for funds for Philippines

More than $300 has gone to the Culion Sanitarium, leprosarium in the Philippines, raised in a fund campaign being conducted by the Filipino Woman's Club of the East Bay, according to Mrs. Teddy Carpiso, president of the group.

Speaking before the Daly City-Colma Lions Club, Mrs. Carpiso told how the money is used to provide medicine and clothing for children of leper patients. Culion Sanitarium is one of three in the Islands, she continued, and as they are short of funds, any gifts can be used.

The Filipino Women's Club is conducting a fund drive throughout the Bay Area, and donations may be made to Mrs. Carpiso at 516 62nd St., Oakland.

Serra Bowl News

This week we find ourselves involved in a rundown of ladies and junior league action at Serra. About half our planned quota of gals are off and running in their new winter schedules and following is a roundup of early results.

With two weeks of play completed in the Tuesday FRIARETTES league We have a four-way tie for top spot between The Hustlers Team No. 1, The Fightin' Four, and the Gutter Goofs—each tallying 4 wins against 2 losses. Laura Cloese has high game with a 195 and high series with a 461 trio.

Two teams, The Pin-Ups and The Femmettes, got off to a good start in the Tuesday afternoon FEMME FATALES league by sweeping all three games from their opponents on the opening week of play. Cathy Renn hit high game with a 180 total while Donna Wood's 443 series was high in that department.

In the Wednesday COFFEE CLATCH league we find a first week 3-way tie for top spot with Teams number 14, 7, and 6 all scoring three wins. Betty Elliott banged high game of the week with a 174 effort and Lee Driscoll had high series with her 441 threesome.

All alone at the top of the heap in the Wednesday afternoon ROCKETTES league are The Up'n Comings. In two weeks of competition these gals have yet to suffer a single loss. High game in this loop is Lorraine Pauley's 166, while top series is Joyce Donnelly's 21 tally.

For the first time Serra Bowl has entered a team in the Junior "900" Master's traveling league and our boys are off to a pretty fair start. Against the Millbrae team at Broadway Bowl last week the kids salvaged one win after a shaky start. This week at the Grand Lanes in Hayward our boys swept all three games from the 299 Sport Shop lads from Redwood City on games of 98, 937, and 888 for a 2,773 team total. Bob Cowan led the pack with a 224-608 series.
